5TH GRADE STATES TIMELINES NOW ONLINE!

Ms. Bright's 5th grade class has begun their annual states research, part of which involves learning about the history of their chosen state. With the research they conducted, those 5th graders learned in library class how to create a timeline of their state's history using the readwritethink.org website. Their completed timelines are now available for you to see by following the link provided on the library webpage. Enjoy!

Grade 4 Class Teaches Poetry Website to 1st Graders!

Mrs. Ferrara's 4th grade library class recently learned to use Storybird.com, which provides users with the ability to write poems based on its gallery of artwork. Those 4th graders are now meeting with Mrs. Wood's 1st grade library class and teaching them to write poems using Storybird.com. 1st and 4th grade poems will soon be posted on the library webpage!

LATELY IN THE LIBRARY...

 The 5th grade library class has begun "Library Survivor," a library research-skills game based on the popular TV show.

 Grade 2 library classes are reading the Caldecott-award winning "A Tree is Nice" this week and, in honor of Arbor Day, will Friday plant a tree donated by Lowes.

 Ms. Tammaro's 1st grade library class has almost completed a library research project about stars & planets. look for their online presentations soon!
